Booking and Approval

How far ahead do I need to book?

At least 14 days before departure, in Wayfarer. If you book later, add a business reason.

Who approves my trip?

It depends on the estimated cost. Up to $2,500: your manager. $2,501 to $7,500: a Director. Over $7,500: a Vice President. Any trip outside your country of employment needs a Director or above, requested at least 30 days ahead.

Can I fly business class?

Only on a flight segment longer than 10 hours, and only with advance Vice President approval. For segments of 6 to 10 hours you may fly premium economy. Under 6 hours is economy.

Can I book a basic economy fare?

No. Basic economy fares cannot be changed, so they are not allowed.

Hotels and Meals

What is the most I can spend on a hotel?

Per night, before taxes and fees: $325 in Tier 1 cities, $245 in Tier 2, and $185 everywhere else. Conference hotel blocks may exceed the cap by 15%.

What is the daily meal limit?

$100 per day in most cities and $120 per day in Tier 1 cities. The first and last day of a trip are limited to 75%. You can shift money between meals on the same day but not between days.

Is there a different limit for team dinners?

Yes. When 3 or more employees eat together, the limit is $65 per person, and alcohol up to $30 per person is allowed.

Can I expense a drink with dinner when I eat alone?

No. Alcohol is never reimbursed when you eat alone or with one other employee.

What is the limit for a client dinner?

$150 per person, including tax, tip, and alcohol. List each attendee and company in Ledgerly.

Getting Around

What is the mileage rate?

$0.65 per mile, measured from the shorter of your home or your office. Commute miles are never reimbursed.

Do I get reimbursed for a second checked bag?

Not unless your approver agreed in advance. The first checked bag is reimbursed.

Can I use a premium rideshare like Black or Lux?

Only for safety, accessibility, or heavy luggage. Otherwise use standard service.

Submitting Expenses

When do I need a receipt?

For every expense of $25 or more. Meals need an itemized receipt, not just the card slip.

How long do I have to submit my report?

21 days after the trip ends. After 45 days, reimbursement is paid through payroll as taxable wages and your corporate card is suspended until you submit.

I lost a receipt. What do I do?

Complete a Missing Receipt Affidavit in Ledgerly. You can use up to 3 in any rolling 12-month period.

How quickly will I be paid?

Managers should approve within 5 business days. Payment arrives by direct deposit within 7 business days after final approval.

Special Situations

I have to travel on a Sunday for work. Do I get anything?

If Brightwater requires weekend travel of more than 4 hours in total and you are exempt, you earn one comp day, to be used within 90 days.

Whom do I call in an emergency while traveling?

The 24-hour Travel Assistance Line at +1-800-555-0177. Then tell your manager within 24 hours.

Can I add a few vacation days to a business trip?

Yes, at your own cost, using PTO. Brightwater reimburses airfare only up to the cost of a business-only itinerary.
